MUTTON FOR EVER!

What sheep to breed in the River Plate, is now the greatest question of the day. The frozen mutton trade with Europe, which has at last taken shape, has led to a new departure by our farmers and estancieros in favour of the Lincoln breed, whilst the preponderance of long coarse wools in nearly all the world's wool markets convinces many of our most enterprising and best-read farmers that the fine-woolled sheep for the Plate is the best.

In a question of such deep interest to this country it is surprising that the Press of this city should devote so little attention to the matter. If we except our colleague the Prensa, nearly all the other big papers are occupied with politics and other lore. A newspaper started as a speciality for land and sheep, giving the most detailed description of lands, and freely discussing, with the light of the European price currents, wool and mutton, would prove an invaluable aid towards developing the country's interests. But we have no such genius in the collective intellectuality of the city Press, and column upon column of wedding presents so repulsively fill the papers that one is forced to consider some of them are the puns and simple organs of the city jewellers.

It is proved now that what we want in the Plate are meat-making wethers. With Europe within 15 days of us—with Haslam's and other freezing patents fitting into our steamers as fast as the carpenters and machinists can arrange them—it is high time for the farmers to turn over a new leaf, as their fortunes are in their own hands, and by a little care and enterprise the sheepfarmers of the Plate can secure the meat markets of all Europe for their stocks.

We give our readers the following table published in a recent number of the London Times, which affords an instructive comparison between the breeds of English sheep, and of the progress observable in the last two years, which clearly establishes the superiority of the South Downs over all other English breeds. If our wealthy and enterprising farmers, therefore, do import any English sheep, it is evident that for meat-making the South Downs are the best; and we commend this mutton to the attention of Mr. Nash and others engaged in the live stock import trade.

The following is the table:—

The Times gives the following interesting account of the last Smithfield Club Cattle Show, at which the concourse of visitors was such that on one day the attendance reacled 40,000. We commend to our frends the farmers this most instructive sheep-rearing paper:—

The fame of Leicester sheep is historic, and perhaps in memory of their perfections they are still allotted the premier position in the classes of the Smithfield Club. A select number of the few breeders who preserve pure Leicester flocks have done their best to show high-class pens at Islington; there is as much of weight and quality as appeared last year; and the wethers taking the cup as best of the breed do great credit to the feeding skill of the executors of the late Mr. Benjamin Painter, and fairly beat the second prize pen of Mrs S. Perry Herrick, who also takes the first honour of lambs. Messrs. J. and D. Linton's first prize ewes are of excellent form, good looks, and nicely-handling mutton. Cotswolds making a fair show in point of numbers, and are of greater merit than last year. Messrs. T. and S. G. Gillett take first and second prizes for wethers which are of noble proportions, very broad in back, with superior loins and rumps. The sheep in this class average considerably greater weight than was the case two years ago. Mr. J. H. Elwes is first for ewes, and wins also the top place for laubs. The improvement in the lamb class is remarkable, these weighing on an average 29 lb. per lamb more than the lambs shown in 1881. The most extraordinary size and substance used to be found in the Lincoln breed; but while quality has been advanced rather than otherwise, there is now a diminution in the live weights, or, at least, the few specimens exhibited do not come up to the surprising proportions which have been shown as wonders at Islington. Mr. Robert Wright's first prize wethers are remarkably fine, but the first prize ewes of Mr John Pears, which win the cup as best of the breed, are marvellous animals, and the heaviest sheep in the hall. The three average 363lb per head, representing probably a long way over 50lb. per quarter dead weight. Mr. H. Makinder wins both first and second honours for Lincoln lambs, and the whole class is exceedingly meritorious. The Kentish or Romney Marsh breed are of not more than average quality, Mr. Henry Page is first and second for wethers, and his lambs win the cup as best pen of the breed.

South Downs have eclipsed all former performances, alike in number of entries, totalling up 33 pens, or 99 sheep, and in the universal display of extraordinary quality. A marked feature in the great class of wethers is the general increase in weight, the average live weight now being 216lb. p. sheep, whereas in 1881 it was 203 lb. Lord Walsingham's magnificent first prize wethers, which win the breed cup, and are in reserve for the Champion Plate of the whole show, weigh 251 lb. per sheep; two years ago the Merton gold medal wethers weighed 232 lb. per sheep. Lord Walsingham is also winner of the second prize in the class, and he is first for ewes, which beautiful animals stand in reserve for the breed cup. Mr Charles Chapman is third for wethers, and in the same position for ewes, the Prince of Wales gains the fourth prize and a high commendation for wethers, the Duke of Richmond's pen being commended. The Goodwood ewestake second prize and a commendation. In the excellent class of lambs, Mr J J Colman, M.P., heads the list, with Mr Henry Upton taking second and third prizes. The increase in weight of the lambs as compared with two years ago is remarkable; and the merit of the Southdown breeders and fatteners is that they have enabled their animals to lay on more mutton upon large frames without sacrificing refined character and purity of type. An unlooked-for result in the Hampshire and Wiltshire Downs is that the wethers, as well as the lambs, form the heaviest wether and lamb classes in the hall, the wethers averaging 293 lb. per sheep, and the Oxfordshire wethers, at nearly equal weight, alike surpass the Lincoln and Cotswold long-wools and the cross-breds. Mr Alfred Morrison is once more the winner of the first prize, and also of the third, for wethers of very great frames and superb in quality, the best three sheep averaging 319 lb. each live weight, at 22 months old. This is astonishing, indeed, for the same eminent breeder's best sheep two years ago attained to the weight of 297 lb. each, which was then considered surprising for a short-woolled breed. Mr Henry Lambert is second for wethers. Messrs J A and T Palmer win the first prize for ewes, Mr W Parsons being second. The wonder of the sheep show is the pen of lambs with which Mr Parsons takes the breed cup and the championship of the hall; but the class is grand throughout, Mr John Barton claiming the second and Sir Edward Hulse the third and fourth prizes, the latter prize having been added at the request of the judges, while high commendations and commendations honour nearly all the other lambs in the class. The 3/ lambs shown average no less than 20 lb. live weight per head, which no other breed approaches; and the corresponding average two years ago only reached 129 lb., which at that time was nevertheless equally superior to the weight of the lambs of any other variety.

NATIONAL PROGRESS.

With great pleasure we translate the following article from the Tribuna Nacional, the official Government organ, believing as we do that our colleague's very able resumen of the vast Public Works at present pushed ahead by the National Government will be a matter of great interest to our readers.

We grant the National Government the very highest praise for its indomitable enterprise and energy, but we must be again permitted to remark that it is time for the Government to turn over a new leaf and to leave henceforward all Public Works to public joint-stock companies, which to our view, have immense advantage over Governments works. Still, the paper we give at foot is a fit reply to the many stupid attacks of a purely political opposition. The Roca Government, if it has erred at all, has erred on the right side, and has erred by too much go-ahead-ism and too much progress. No other country in South America can point to such a schedule of Public Works as that which our colleague so truthfully gives; and the great popularity of General Roca's administration both here and in Europe, is due to the magnificent Public Works and public enterprises, which it has initiated and which in spite of every thing, it so manfully carries out:—

"The general movement is astounding, and equally encouraging. No other state of South America is being transformed wits such rapidity; and President Roca's figure of speech—"it is only of late that the sailors on deck can see the splendid run the ship has made"—is perfectly true. The resources of the Nation are everywhere making themselves felt, in costly works of its own, or in subsidising others the local advantages of which have been demonstrated.

The Pacific Railway starts from Buenos Aires and branchess off at Mercedes to join the Andine line; whilst the Campana line will soon carry us to Rosario in its luxurious cars. The Riachuelo Port Works are being pushed on assiduously, and the secure haven it affords is ever extending.

The Public Works of the Capital show a long list of wants satisfied by the Administration for the better adornment, health and general public services of the city. In Santa Fe the surveys for the port and wharves progress rapidly, while a well-built mole is also being erected at San Lorenzo. In the Capital of that province solid river embankments and a wharf are being built. In Rosario an Immigrant's Home is being built; and there also, as in Santa Fe, commodious and well situated Post-offices are being erected.

In Cordoba, a bridge is being built to unite Villa Union and Villanueva, and a dike at Quilino; two colonies are being formed near Rio Cuarto, and the building for the Academy of Sciences in the Capital is about being finished.

In San Luis a grand canal is being made, and Artesian wells are being sunk to mitigate the droughts. In Mendoza a bridge is being thrown across the Desaguadero; the railway is almost finished to the city; new roads are being opened to the Cordillera, and the old ones repaired. In San Juan important works are going on to keep its impetuous river within bounds; a bridge is being thrown across the Cauete, and surveys for the extension of the Andine Railway are being made. In Rioja similar surveys are being made, and the borings for Artesian wells show probabilities of success. In Catamarca roads are being made in the Sierrita, and the Muchara is being surveyed; a dike is being built at Portezuelo, and a railway planned. In Jujuy bridges are being thrown across the Tala and Reyes; a telegraph line is being laid to Oran, and surveys for a railway are being made.

The railway in Santiago is being laid; and the river embankment on the Salado will save its Capital from threatened inundation. In Tucuman the fine bridge over the Rio Sali is being finished, and the Central North Railway is being extended. In Salta the telegraph is laid from the Capital to Andalgala; embankments are being made on the river Arias, a road is being made though the Toro Pass, and the railways being surveyed. The engineers are also surveying the Misiones line, which will cross the province of Corrientes; and a port and wharves and bridges over its principal rivers are being planned for the same province. In Entre Rios a wharf is being built on the Uruguay, a large bridge is being thrown across the river Gualeguay, and plans for a port at Colon are being drawn up.

The foregoing is but a small part of the great transforming movement going on in the country. We will not refer to the work of economical organization, but leave to the reader's imagination the attention bestowed by the Administration on every branch of the Government; Roads, telegraphs, bridges, wharves, canals, railways, embankments, water! These means of communication, the motive power of trade and industry; these means of fomenting every industry, with all its details, have given a new economic life and moral progress to the whole republic.

Six years ago the great distances, broken routes and dangers, kept labour, capital and public spirit with folded arms. Everything has changed at railway speed, and produced a veritable revolution in the state of the country. Everything had to be done, every thing planned, all the means provided, and it has been done—with energy, with rapidity and with enthusiasm.

Those who knew and left the country a few years ago are astounded when they return to it now. Everything has changed for the better. The public spirit, raised by evidence of genuine progress, no longer lives on hope, hope deferred, but on the conviction that its plans, calculations and exertions are sure to succeed. The currents of trade are sweeping rapidly from province to province, and the life-blood of industry and production pours over our roads and our bridges. Everybody is, relatively speaking, rich. Everybody works, and feels that his property, his person and his rights are safe."

FROZEN MEAT.

A New Zealand correspondent writes to Bradstreet's, New York:—Referring to the frozen meat trade, which has such a direct bearing upon American food production, it should be stated that it is not two years since it was first mooted. Already 157,133 carcases of sheep have been exported, while 15,000 additional carcases are under process awaiting shipment, and engagements have been made for the conveyance of at least 200,000 carcases during the season of 1884. This, then, is the measure of opposition to America which New Zealand will give next year in this line; but it will also export butter, cheese, fish and fresh vegetables in refrigerators in large quantity, the enterprise of the colonists having practically bridged over the 13,000 odd miles between New Zealand and England. The shipment of beef and mutton from Australia must also be added, for although inferior to New Zealand meat, it is still equal to anything America sends. And this leads me to note the opening of a new and extensive market to the Queensland stock raisers. The Queensland Frozen Meat Company has established refrigerator warehouses at Batavia, in the island of Java, which are supplied by steamer from the colony. The demand is very brisk, especially among natives, Arabs and Chinese, who daily throng the neighbourhood of the storehouses in their eagerness to buy Queensland beef. The company is making arrangements to open depots in Batavia, and supply customers at their houses by means of meat carts.

If these facts point to anything they point to an ultimate displacement of American canned meats in the Orient, and it should be noted that the Auckland (New Zealand) Frozen Meat Company, to which I referred in a late letter, is going into the canned meat business on an extensive scale, having bought all the appliances in Chicago. It has also ordered the duplicate of an ice machine in use in San Francisco to be built here by the Risden Iron Works as part of its general outfit. This will be the second machine of the kind in use. It is by far the most efficient, and makes artificial ice quite as good and a great deal cheaper than natural ice can be delivered for. It is an American patent. Mr. Lloyd Trevis controls the ice company here which operates the machine. It is manifest, however, that when fresh carcases can be marketed they will displace the more expensive and less satisfactory canned meats.

The New Zealand frozen meat trade is stimulated by direct steam communication between the colony and London. The New Zealand Shipping Company has a fleet of new steel steamships on the line fitted up with refrigerators, and Shaw, Laville and Co., of London, are building powerful fifteen-knot steamships for the same trade. These vessels bring out nominated Government immigrants, saloon and second-class passengers. Population is pouring into New Zealand in larger numbers than to all Australia combined. The Dunedin correspondent above referred to writes:—"Our direct steam service is doing wonders. The Ionic went home crowded in forty-three days viá the Straits of Magellan, and the British King in forty-one days. These two steamers took over 24,000 carcases of sheep. You had better stir up the Pacific Mail Company to make better time. The Orient Company has secured the Sidney mail subsidy for a fortnightly service — contract time thirty-nine days. If the Pacific mail service is to be continued with a subsidy the contractors must do something to earn it. This direct service costs nothing by way of subsidy, and the time noted by me will be reduced." These facts are pregnant, and should be considered by Congress, which will be in session before this appears in print. The frozen meat exportation shows that, as far as mutton is concerned, our productions are most suitable for the London market. The New Zealand mutton exported has averaged about 7d. per lb. The expenses are about 3½ d. per lb, which, on a 70lb wether, the general weight shipped, is equal to 20s 5d, to which must be added from 3s to 4s for sales of skins, tallow, &c.

As soon as the trade is properly started and the requisite bottoms available, there will be no difficulty in exporting from New Zealand 600,000 sheep, which will swell the amount of our exports considerably, giving the settler a net return of at least 10s per head in excess of previous price. Merinos are found to be difficult of sale in London, so that the bulk of this export will be of crossbreds. Thus the number of crossbreds is not likely to diminish, although the profit from this wool may not be so great as from merinos. Our present experience, however, shows that a half-bred sheep is the most suitable for export, averaging about 70 lbs weight, and this class of wool is not so liable to fluctuation as the coarser Lincolns. The future sheep of New Zealand is, therefore, likely to be the half-bred merino longwool. There is no doubt that when farmers can find a ready sale for their sheep at 20s a head, they will be able to produce a much larger quantity, and if he trade continues to show as good results, New Zealand will be exporting one million sheep per annum in a very few years.

"THE STATISTICS OF AGITATION."

Under this title a writer in the Quarterly Review pursues his inquiry into the correctness of the estimates on which modern Socialism is based, and more particularly with reference to the assertion that during the last half-century the poor have been growing poorer and the rich richer; while the intermediate class of moderate incomes has been gradually disappearing. It is with these assertions alone that we shall conce-n ourselves on the present occasion, endeavouring to exhibit very briefly the Reviewer's conclusions.

Furnished with all the necessary data, he divides the whole population of this country at the present day into those who have incomes over £150 a year and those who have less; taking the latter, for the sake of convenience, as the poorer classes and the former as the well-to-do or the rich. The next step is to ascertain how much of the national income is assessed to the income tax; and this amount being deducted from the sum total, the remainder will be the portion belonging to the poorer classes—those, that is, worth less than £150 a year. For the year 1883, then, the Reviewer puts the whole national income in round numbers at 1,200 millions, and the population at about 36 millions. Of this 1,200 millions of income, 580 millions —more or less—pays income tax, leaving a residue of 620 millions which pays none; and of this population of 36 millions no fewer than 30 millions belong to the poorer classes; so that at the present day 30 millions of poor have 620 millions to divide among themselves as their share of the national income. Now, let us look forty years back to the year 1843, and see in what proportion the income was divided then. By the same process of analysis the Reviewer shows us that the classes with incomes at less than £150 a year were then 26 millions in number, while the amount of income belonging to them was 235 millions; and it is very obvious that 235 millions bear a much smaller proportion to 26 millions than 620 millions do to 30 millions. The one would give from £8 to £9 a head, the other more than £20; or, as the Quarterly Reviewer reckons by families, taking the Census estimates of from four to five to a family, we see that, while forty years ago every family belonging to the poorer classes had on an average £40 a year, it has now about £100 a year. This, we say, is the average. Of course all of them do not get this, for it is not equally distributed: some get more and some less. But there is that amounted to be divided; and that is the difference between what they had in 1843 and what they have at the present time. So much, then, for the poor having grown poorer. Let us now see to what extent the rich have grown richer.

This particular sum in arithmetic the Quarterly Reviewer leaves his readers to do for themselves, merely providing them with divisor and dividend. The number of persons with incomes above £150 a-year was in 1843 only 1,500,000, and of the national income 280 millions was assessed to the income tax. In 1883, as we understand him, the number of this class has risen to 4,700,000, and the amount assessed to the income tax is, roughly speaking, 580 millions. These figures indicate on the surface that the rich have grown poorer instead of richer within the last forty years: in other words, that a smaller amount of the national wealth, in proportion to their number, is now distributed amongst them. And here, perhaps, will be the best place to mention what was first suggested by the Economist—namely, that in these various calculations no account seems to have been taken of that portion of the national income which is derived from foreign investments which pay no income tax. This is estimated at 40 millions a-year; and whether the Quarterly Reviewer has inadvertently mixed it up with the income of the poorer classes, or neglected to add it to that of the richer, or take no notice of it at all, we cannot ascertain. But the question is not very important to our present inquiry; for, whatever he has done with it, the sum is not large enough to affect the general conclusion. The fact would still remain, if the rest of the figures are correct, that the poor have grown richer and the rich poorer within the period during which it is asserted that the exact contrary has taken place.

As regards the disappearance of moderate incomes, the Quarterly Reviewer has no difficulty in proving that since 1851 they have largely increased. In order to consider this question he has to subdivide the class which he has hitherto treated as a whole—that is, all those who have more than £150 a year, which simply affords a line of demarcation between the poor and the not poor—and to draw a fresh line through the latter class between the possessors of large and the possessors of moderate incomes. The following, he says, are the exact figures "in proportion to the increase of the population as a whole:—The class with incomes between £150 and £300 has increased during the past thirty years by 148 per cent.; the class with incomes between £300 and £600 by 130 per cent; the class with incomes between £600 and £1000 by 77 per cent." The statement applies to all incomes derived from trade, manufacture, the various liberal professions, the Civil Service, the corporate bodies, and—most important of all—from land. Of incomes derived from other securities the Reviewer cannot speak so positively; but he has authority for saying that what is true of one class would be found on the whole to be equally true of the other; and, under any circumstances, he must be held to have proved his point against the Socialists, who say that the middle class is disappearing and that the tendency of the population to divide into two parties—the enormously rich on one side of the line and the miserably poor on the other—is developing itself with alarming rapidity.

Our notice of this very useful article would be incomplete without some reference to the Reviewer's remarks on landed property; though really the language of men like Mr. George and Mr Chamberlain is, one would think, too transparently absurd to impose on a sane man who can read —or on any sane man who cannot, provided only he has lived in the country. The Quarterly Reviewer takes an estate of a thousand acres as the point at which the middle-class proprietor may be said to end and the territorial aristocracy" or "county families', to begin. Of course this is a very rough-and-ready classification; but it will answer well enough for the present purpose, and these are some of the results to which his inquiry has conducted him. Of the ninety-nine millions a year, of which the rental of England consists the "territorial aristocracy" take only 30 millions. Of the 138,800 landed proprietors to be found in England, including both rural and urban properties, only 5,000 have more than a thousand acres. As many as 72,000 have estates of only twenty acres, while the smaller proprietors take 33 millions of the rental, as again the 30 millions taken by the aristocracy. Of the small urban and sub-urban proprietors, the former, on an average, own half an acre of land the latter four acres. The two classes put together are 32,000 in number and their receipts amount to 36 millions per annum. Thus, if we add together all the small landed proprietors in the kingdom, they come to 953,800, and their united incomes to 69 millions; while the rental of the whole territorial aristocracy amounts to only 30 millions.

In his comparison of the incomes derived from land with the incomes derived from commerce and manufacture, the Quarterly Reviewer declares that of 1,900 men actively engaged in business the combined income exceeds by £3,000,000 the entire rental of the 5,000 territorial aristocrats. Perhaps he would have made his article more exhaustive had he had something to say of the difference in the capitalized value of the two kinds of property. We may point, in conclusion, to one or two other statements in the article which are not entirely satisfactory. For instance, it must not be too readily assumed that the class of yeomanry is not becoming extinct because we find so many small landed properties still remaining in the country. They by no means represent a corresponding number of resident proprietors. The plot of twenty or thirty acres has often been purchased as an investment by some successful tradesman or man of business in an adjoining town, who has no intention whatever of either farming it or living on it; and such a man as this, though a small rural proprietor, is very far from being a yeoman. We could wish also that the Reviewer had been sometimes rather more explicit. At page 249, for instance, where he distributes his £620,000,000 among his 30,000,000 poor, it is impossible to conjecture the process by which he reaches his results. No mistake in his arithmetic on this particular point would materially affect the general results which he obtains; but still the obscurity is perplexing. These, however, are but trifling blemishes. As an exposure of some of the worst misrepresentations of the Radical and Socialist school, his article is thoroughly successful as well as extremely opportune.

MR. GLADSTONE INVITED TO VISIT NEW ZEALAND.

Mr Gladstone, having been invited by the leading politicians and public men of New Zealand to visit the colony, has sent the following reply, which has been published in the New Zealand press. The invitation was sent through the Governor and Colonial Office, and was signed by the Premier; the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Sir George Grey, and a large number of other public men. The invitation referred to Mr Gladstone's early connection with the colony, and reminded him that the colonists are "kin beyond the sea," and also members of the empire. It also pointed out the speed and ease with which so long a voyage may now be made, and referred to Mr Gladstone's fondness for yachting. The following is the reply of the right hon. gentleman. It is dated October 26, 1883, and is addressed to the Speakers of the Legislative Houses of New Zealand:—

Gentlemen,—I have the honour to acknowledge with sentiments of respect and gratitude the invitation to visit New Zealand which you have addressed to me on the part of the Legislative Houses of that advanced and important colony, as well as on your own part.

It is unhappily impossible for me to comply with the invitation, on account of the constant pressure of my official duties, which ill admit of my removal even to points much nearer this island and this metropolis.

It is not without much regret that I make this reply to your courteous proposal, for I am very sensible of the practical benefits produced by interchange of visits between the inhabitants of the different portions of the empire, in closer sympathies as well as in enlarged information.

I have many reasons for wishing to see this interchange frequent and extended, besides the fact that nearly forty-nine years ago I was first placed in official relations with the colonies, and that the early impressions thus produced do not easily depart. But all general considerations which I feel to be applicable tell in the case of New Zealand with peculiar force. Besides the fact that one of my near relations has a distinct interest in its prosperity, and has repeatedly visited its shores, and that one of my dearest friends was its first and illustrious Bishop, I took a warm interest in the proceedings connected with its earlier history, and I consider that in that history were worked out many of the soundest principles which now regulate the colonial connection, and which promise to make it alike honourable, beneficial, and enduring.—I am, &c., (Signed) W. E. Gladstone.

PRINCE BISMARCK AND THE UNITED STATES.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times writes:—A few days ago I reported to you that Mr Sargent, the U. States Minister, had handed to the relatives of Dr. Lasker here the resolution of the House of Representatives expressing condolence on the death of that "eminent German statesman," and had also given a copy to Count Hatzfeldt, of the Foreign Office, with a request to communicate it to the Imperial Parliament "of which the deceased was a member." I said at the time that this singular request was sure to have a bad effect on the minds of the ruling powers here, and my prediction is now borne out by the Cologne Gazette which states that the Chancellor has actually sent back this communication to Herr von Eisendecher, German Minister at Washington, with a counter-request to return it to the Foreign Office there for retransmission to the House of Representatives, as "the position of Dr. Lasker in Germany was not such as to justify the intervention of the Imperial Chancellor in the way demanded." At first sight this may seem utterly incredible, but the form in which the statement was made leaves no room for doubt as to its truth, and the incident, moreover, is quite characteristic of its main author. As to how the Chancellor's report will be viewed on the other side of the Atlantic there can also be no doubt. The fact is, the relations between Washington and the Wilhelmstrasse are at present in a state of very considerable tension, and it was only yesterday evening that Prince Bismark's personal organ plainly threatened the American Government with counter reprisals, should Congress persist in taking revenge for the exclusion of American pig-flesh from Germany, by raising the import dues on certain German wares. Of one thing, at least, we may be sure, and that is that we have certainly not heard the last of the Lasker incident. The American people are much too proud, and sensitive, and independent for that.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news of the day is that Governor Roach, when he leaves the Chair of provincial State in the merry month of May next, will name himself Provost of La Plata, and push on the works of the new city as hard as he can—and that's pretty hard. There is no man in the whole country with such a store of restless energy in him as His Excellency.

The rain yesterday morning was nice. Those who stopped up all night say that there was an unusual display of vivid lightning all through the small hours. The day was delightful.

Mr. and Mrs. Parish and Mr. Santa Maria are on board the R.M.S. Minho, so their numerous friends may prepare to welcome them, to-morrow or next day.

Grand doings to-night at the German Turnverein, to celebrate Emperor William's birthday. We salute the German community on the happy occasion, and hope that their grand old monarch may be spared to reign over them for many years to come.

The First Division of the garrison will be reviewed at Palermo on Sunday.

Those who think that we are prodigies in a railway sense here may as well read this:—

"Railway Wonders.—What may be called the mechanical statistics of railways give results that fifty years ago would have been pronounced incredible. On a portion of the South-Eastern Railway, in the working interval between 4.51 a. m. and twenty minutes past midnight, no fewer than 1,300 different trains run over the line; being at the rate of despatch of more than a train per minute for the entire time. A train enters or leaves Charing Cross Station every 2½ minutes; while at Cannon Street Station a train enters or leaves every minute and a half. It is the statement of the Chairman of the South Eastern Railway that the Cannon Street trains are more numerous by more than one-sixth than the trains entering and leaving the London termini of the London and North-Western, the Great Northern, the Midland, and the Great Western Railways all added together. Under the circumstance it is unquestionably much to the credit of the managers of the South-Eastern Railway that not a single death from any cause within their control should have occurred for eighteen years; during which time no fewer than 6,000 persons have been killed in the streets of London."

The Montevidean Telephone Company seems to be rather enterprising. It means to put the Cathedral and Solis Theatre there in communication with private wires, so that its patrons will be saved the trouble of going either to church or the theatre. We say without hesitation that this scheme will break down. People go to theatres—and, we very much fear, to church also—to see and be seen, and the Telephone cannot do this for them yet.

There is a great hubbub in the English papers now about a schoolmaster who punishes his pupils by giving them a dose of castor oil, when they do not know their lessons. One boy refused to take the dose, saying that he had had two Gregory's powders in the morning for not knowing his history, and that was quite enough for one day So it was.

We find the following in the London papers:—"On his leaving the Bachelors' Ball at Dorking, on Wednesday morning, some person in the crowd threw about a quart of beer at the Duke of Albany. Only a small part fell on His Royal Highness, the gentlemen who were accompanying him receiving the greater portion of the contents of the jug. The man was not identified, but the police are confident that they will discover him."

Colonel Viejobueno reports another brush with the Tobas Indians in the Chaco, and the capture of the Cacique Nachilust. The fight took place near Small-Pox Hill (Monte de Viruela). Rather a queer name.

We congratulate our highly esteemed colleague the Southern Cross on its new type and new heading. It is greatly improved.

The Colon Theatre opera season will open at the end of April.

A German baker has been sent to the Mad House. The poor man is a curious case: He declares that whenever he sleeps in his own bed, an angel comes and tears his heart out, but when he sleeps elsewhere he's all right.

Mr. Juan Lanuz issued cards yesterday for the opening of his Model Market to-morrow at 2 p.m. We presume that a market—above all other places—could not be opened without a superb lunch, so we're there.

Grand performances are announced by the circus troupe at the Politeama to-night, to-morrow at 2 p.m. and another at night. The programmes could not be better.

The title of the Duke of Cornwall may be held by other than the Prince of Wales, and it is quite possible for there to be both a Prince of Wales and a separate Duke of Cornwall at the same time. It is true that our present Prince was born with the latter title, as he was the eldest son of the reigning monarch, but the nature of this appanage is a singular one. There is a contingeney on which, during the lifetime of the Prince, his right ceases, which is, in case of succession to the throne, and his having a son born after that event. In such a case, that son would be born Duke of Cornwall, to the exclusion of his father and two brothers, the elder of whom (as heir to the throne) would then in all probability be created Prince of Wales. In other words, the title of Duke of Cornwall is inherited by the eldest son born to the sovereign after he or she has actually ascended the throne.

Alderman Recke deserves the thanks of the community for taking up the Lavaderos project. The public will gain enormously by it, as the charge for washing clothes will be reduced one half or more; the poor 'lavanderas' will be sheltered from the weather, and have such facilities and means to boot that they will be able to wash in a day so much 'ropa' as they now wash in a week, and the Municipality will make a big "renta" out of the business. It is proposed to open twenty of these Wash Houses in different parts of the city, and if necessary forty. Everything favours this scheme, which we hope to see speedily carried out.

We received yesterday a box full of our brother editor's "Dictionary of Statistics," after an unconscionable delay in the Custom House.

Marriage in Siberia amongst the convicts is a very rum business. First he is asked if he wishes a partner for life; and if he assents, he is provided with a lady by his jailer. After a honeymoon embracing some few days, he is again asked if he is satisfied; if he answer in the affirmative, all's well; but if in the negative, the lady retires, and he undergoes for the trouble some five-and-twenty lashes of the knout on that part of his body most adapted for receiving same. These are the fees. In case he wishes to renew the experiment, he can do so at the same peril, and can continue doing so until he is completely satisfied.

A New York produce paper gives the following curious statistics about eggs. This country ought to be a large exporter of eggs, but is n't:—

"We all understand the meaning of the old saw of "carrying coals to Newcastle," and it would seem as though "carrying eggs to America" ought to mean much the same thing, since there is no country in the world better adapted to raising poultry than America. But in the nine months ended September 30 last there were imported into this country 10,771,304 dozen, or 149,255,648 eggs, of the value of nearly 1,600,000 dols., and about the same number of even greater value were imported during the corresponding period in the preceding year. These eggs were brought into Atlantic ports, chiefly New York, and, in the main, were no doubt consumed there."

The San Luis Lottery is again working, and the 'empresario' is at war with the Municipality for preventing illegally the sale of his tickets. The action was brought before the Federal Judge, but, the Municipality objecting to his jurisdiction, it was referred to the Supreme Court, which confirmed the Judge's authority in the matter. It is a most remarkable fact that since all lotteries except the Capital were prohibited, there have more come into existence than ever.

In spite of the exertions of the police the duel between Colonel Bedoya and Commander Moritan came off yesterday afternoon. We heard no particulars up to press hour.

Governor Roach flew off to La Plata again yesterday morning. H.E. almost comes up to the famous bird of his relative Sir Boyle Roche—he is all but ubiquitous.

The wicked man of the Chicago News: "The astrologists ascribe Mary Anderson's talents and beauty to the fact that she was born at a time when Jupiter, Venus and the moon were all in conjunction. It is not hard to imagine that when Mary's stepfather, old Doc Griffin, was inflicted upon humanity the Ursa Major was in perhelion."

Tomas Drysdale y Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have much pleasure in stating that I cured all my flocks this season with the "Golden Leaf Extract" and found the result highly satisfactory, and in future do not intend to use any other dip.

After first using the "Golden Leaf," I found it such a perfect cure for Scab that I recommended it to several of my neighbours who have all proved it equally good.

Yours truly
W. R. GRANT.

Cedulas A	100
Cedulas E	85
Cedulas F	84
National Bank Shares....	126½

The Bolsa ruled dull enough all day up to the closing hour of the ring, when there was a slight spurt in the Cedula market, and although prices did not give way much still the stock closed weak, and all depends on the amount of Cedulas, which two brokers will take out at the end of the month; one is marked for two millions, and the other for one million; of course, if these parties take up all these Cedulas, we shall close the month with an upward movement, already the month's liquidation may be said to have begun. In Bank Shares there was scarcely a sale, only two hundred sold for the end of the month at 126⅝, and 500 for April at 128½. The share market could not rule harder. The Bank balance-sheet just out was the talk of the Bolsa; the circulation, including the small emission, is now up to 17 millions; many parties expected it would show more, which goes to show the great prudence of the Directors. The amount stated in the balance-sheet as advanced on the loan is only 4,200,000, which shows that the Bank on the arrangement of the loan will have a good balance to draw for.

The sale of half a league of camp in the Venado Tuerto to Mr. John Kenny, an Irish sheepfarmer of San Pedro, is reported; price reserved.

Mr. Peters, who has arrived out from England on a short visit to this country, was welcomed; he has been all over the world and knows much of Australia and New Zealand; he was English Commissioner at the Chicago Exhibition. We hope he will form favorable ideas of the R. Plate.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 1,000 at 100
For cash E 22,000 at 88-87½
For March 31st E 130,000 at 88½-½-88
For April 30th E 230,000 at 88⅝-¾
For cash F 38,000 at 84
For March 22nd F 1,750 at 84
For April 30th F 20,000 at 84½
Sales, 443,750

National Bank Shares—
For March 31st 200 at 126⅝
For April 30th 500 at 128½
Sales, 700

There was much comment about what we published this morning respecting the English Land Companies working in the United States, Canada and Australia. There seems to exist a strong prejudice against those companies, but we can only say that the two English Land Companies working in this country are not only doing well but most remarkably prosperous, and we believe that in a very short time we shall have many more such companies in this country, as there is an immense opening for them.

The Bahia Blanca Saladero Co. seems at last an accomplished fact and very soon we hope to see the concern at work, and putting up freezing deposits for capones.

It was stated on some authority that if a buyer offered for ten thousand pure Lincoln sheep in this market, they could not be got, and parties who intend going into the export of mutton business, must breed their own stock first. Mestizo Lincolns might be bought at certain well-known establishments, but pure Lincolns must be imported. As will appear from what we publish in our leading columns, the Southdowns give better results than Lincolns in England, and we have no doubt they assert the same superiority here. Mr Chas with his wonderful Negrette flocks has proved the fact that we can breed in this country as fine Negrettes as can be bred on the finest and best establishments in Germany, and in a few years we hope to prove the same with regard to the heavy meat producing English breeds; climate, soil, pasturage, all in this country favor the sheepfarmer; all that we need is more attention to blood and more industry on our establishment, but we are all turning over a new leaf in the camp now, and just as fat and large wethers as they rear in England we shall soon turn out in the Plate.

The Boca now beats the Outer Roads, who could believe it, yesterday 97 ultramar vessels in the Boca.

The most stirring news on 'Change to-day was that, at the meeting of Congress the area of federalized territory, belonging to the capital, will be extended to the old limits of 1826 by Rivadavia, this will take in Ensenada and the new town of La Plata; if such be the care then we shall need a new capital for the province. We give the rumour for what it is worth.

In our leading columns will be found a translation of a very able article, that appeared this morning in the Tribuna Nacional, showing the magnificent Public Works going on in this country for account of the National Government. We certainly agree with our colleague that no other South American nation can point to such a schedule of Public Works, but also we think that the country has now within the last 3 years grown so much that it would be better for the Government to leave these vast enterprises to independent Joint Stock Companies, that would all be worked on cheap foreign capital. In point of fact, were it not for these great Public Works the Government now would not require to make any foreign loan whatever since its revenue is splendid and ample for all the expenses of the administration, but with such enormous Public Works it must always be a borrower. Why not sell some of these Public Works? there are buyers to be had by the score.

Business at afterhours ruled dull; National Bank Shares at 126⅜ buyers, and Cedulas for end of month at 88.

Exchange difficult. Bills passed for the French mail at the following rates:—

Paris 5 francs
France 5.01
Antwerp 5.01
Genoa 5 01
London 47¾.

Provincial Bank let go to-day, and discounted the amount of 350,000 National Dollars. A very large amount. The National Bank also discounted pretty freely.

Mr. Yarrow, of Montevideo, was enveloped in friends when he entered the hall. He starts on a short tour through the camp and to Rosario.

Exchange on Montevideo rules at 3 premium, which is indeed a very high rate, and can only be understood by heavy remittances to that market for purposes well understood by those who watch the market.

The land bills for purchases made last year at the Loreto land auction fell due to-day. The agent of the Land Company must have had a very large amount to collect.

Notwithstanding the great liberality of the Provincial Bank, we heard of a loan on Cedulas to-day at ½ per cent. a month, 100,000 pats.

Great complaints made about the repeated interruptions of the National Telegraph lines. The line to the South was again interrupted to-day.

Colonel Roca, Governor of Misiones, is still in town, and is stopping at the Argentine Hotel. We hear that the sugar industry of Misiones is rapidly extending.

Mr. H. Stanley Clarke was welcomed on his return from Colonia. He reports the camps in splendid condition, and all the estancieros flourishing.

Mr Bullrich sold by auction house Calle Suipacha No. 584-588, for 485,000$. Mr Salas buyer.

50 Shares Lloyd Argentino at 150.

Yesterday the Olavarria Provincial Bank branch was opened in the presence of crowds of depositors.

Great rains again throughout the camp according to the telegrams.

The Allan Line Steamer Corean sails to-day for Havre and Dunkirk with the following large cargo—
3479 bales wool
6600 bags grain.
At Montevideo—
500 bales wool
4000 salted hides
200 half pipes tallow.
From the Plaza Once we have the following:—
72 waggons of produce arrived.
The arrivals to-day were:—
7,200 @ wool
3,195 sacks of wheat
225 do maize
25 bales hay
And much of other produce.

Prices of produce in general continue flat. Very little business done and no buyers, owing to the bad weather this morning, and the scanty arrivals of wool and sheepskins. In cow hides more interest and high prices realised. Hay, colza, barley and turnip maintain their prices.

The sales were:—
Wool—
500 @ good, 83, Llamasares & Benites

The arrivals were:—
25,000 @ of wool
150 fanegas wheat
500 fanegas maize
and many hides and skins, &c.
In Barracas al Sud—
6 horses
2,270 live capons
255 bales wool
951 bags wheat
28 doz. sheepskins
and other produce.

Wool continues flat and no variation in prices of produce in general.

The sales were:—

BANCO HIPOTECARIO
Esta abierto al servicio público todos los dias de trabajo desde las 10 de la mañana hasta las 4 de la tarde.
Presta sobre hipoteca con reembolso á largos plazos.
Por el valor del prestamo de cedulas hipotecarias que producen una renta igual al interes que cobra el Banco.
El valor del inmueble hipotecado no debe ser menor de $f 2000 ni el prestamo menos de $f.500.
Los prestamos hipotecarios no pueden exceder de la mitad del valor del inmueble.
El interesado se obligara a pagar una anualidad que dure todo el termino del contrato. La anualidad se compone del interes del capital prestado, del fondo destinado á amortizarlo y de la comision del Banco. La anualidad se divide en trimestres, y las cedulas que al presente da el Establecimiento son:—
Serie E.
Dura 20 años 100 dias 6 o/o de interes, 2 o/o de amortizacion y 1 o/o de comision.
Pagadas las anualidades convenidas por todo el tiempo del contrato, queda la hipoteca redimida, y libre el deudor de las obligaciones hacia el Banco. El deudor podra libertar el inmueble, en todo o parte, anticipandose el contrato.
El que pretendiese prestamos del Banco se presentara por escrito, designando el inmueble que ofrece en hipoteca de una manera precisa, acompañando los titulos de propiedad, los boletos de contribucion directa y espresando al mismo tiempo su estension el gravamen, o los gravamenes que deben ser levantados simultaneamente que se constituya el credito hipotecario. En la Secretaria encontraran el formulario y las tablas de amortizacion.
Los deudores por trimestres haran las entregas de 8 a 15 de Enero, 8 a 15 de Abril, 8 a 15 de Junio, 8 a 15 de Octubre.
Con el fondo cobrado por amortizacion, se rescataran cedulas por sorteos a la par, y con anticipacion de un trimestre.
Las ventas de las cedulas trimestrales las pagara el Banco de 1 a 15 de Enero, de 1 a 15 de Abril, de 1 a 15 de Junio y de 1 a 15 de Octubre.
El Banco podra servir de intermediario gratuito entre el capitalista y el hipotecario para la colocacion comercial de las Cedulas. A este objeto recibira depositos sin interes, que para su colocacion tendran la prelacion con que entraron al Banco.—Estos depositos pasaran al Banco de la Provincia.
El mismo Banco hipotecario recibe sus cedulas en deposito gratuito, dando al depositante una libreta que servira de certificado del deposito.
El deposito se admite desde una cedula de $f.50 que es el minimum de las que emite el Establecimiento.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Kermesse Concert on Thursday night at the Teatro Nacional was a great success; but the audience was all composed of ladiee, as the fashionable "dudes" were conspicuous by their absence. Some say this was due to the unmerciful demands on their purses on previous evenings; others that it was due to no "contraseñas" being issued, thus obliging the unfortunate males to remain in the "salle" all night, or pay again every time they went out for a breath of fresh air.

The six grand new primary schools in the city will be inaugurated on the 30th inst, and twenty six more will be inaugurated before the end of the year. We hope this does not mean so many "opiparo" lunches and ten times as many drowsy speeches. Open the schools by all means, but without either lunch or lingo.

The Interior of Cordoba says that the Enemy of Mankind has got mixed up with the weather there. It would csrtainly look something like it when we read of suffocating heat, dust, wind, rain, hail and cold, rendering top coats necessary—all within 24 hours.

Such things will occur in this cosmopolitan country. We had a visit yesterday from a decently clad Ligurian, who announced himself (as well as we could understand) as being able to speak English, French and his own language. After trying him for 20 minutes in all three, with Spanish and German as a forlorn hope, he had to go as he came; and a bystander expressed his belief that even Edmund D'Amicis could not understand him, nor could his defunct and much greater countryman and townsman Cristopher Columbus.

The Diá is prodigiously angry with an evening colleague for calliug La Plata "a city for frogs," and says that it will soon be the first in the Republic. The Prensa says that the population of the new capital, in the shape of a lively little insect which some people sometimes threaten to put in other people's ears, is increasing so tremendously that the human inhabitants will soon have to fly,

The filthy condition of the jail in Mercedes has produced its natural result. The Alcalde is dead; four and twenty prisoners are down with pernicious fever. The alarm in the town is tremendous, as the people fear an epidemic.

A coffin with human bones has been found in the excavations for the canal at La Plata. The doctors say they must have been fifteen years buried. Some undiscovered murder perhaps. La Plata was a howling wilderness fifteen years ago.

Municipalities are, as a rule, good fun, for those who have not to pay the piper. The Corporation of Moreno has just been caught paying a subvention, with the utmost religiosity, to a notorious quack doctor, who somehow wriggled himself into the post of Surgeon in Ordinary to the Municipality of that fashionable camp town. What a lark!

The Libertad makes an excellent suggestion, which we fully endorse, viz., that the present system of the Capital Lottery should be replaced by a Lottery Loan, such as exists in Austria and other countries, and in which the stakes are always safe for the holders, who have also the chance of large prizes. In this gambliug country such a scheme is most desirable; it would preserve the savings of the people, and the Municipality would have money to carry on its vast public works, instead of "pulling the D——l by the tail" as at present. We hope the Lord Mayor will give the Libertad's proposal serious consideration, and see his way to bringing it before Congress.

The Municipality is going to shut Mr. Lacroze's new stables in Calle Santiago del Estero, to pay him off for the five-cent-fare joke he so successfully played on the King of the City.

"Mamma," said a fashionable New York young lady to her mother, "the papers are making a great fuss over a Mr. Tennyson of England." "Yes," responded the mother, "he has been raised to a dear, delightful peerage." "He has been made a baron, I see," said the daughter. "Yes; and his wife will be a baroness, I suppose," reflected the old lady. "How exquisitely beautiful it must be to be a baroness; what has he been a-doing of, to be a baron?" asked the cultured young lady. "What has he been a-doing of," repeated the mother, "why he is the sole survivor of the noble six hundred, who made the famous charge at Balaklava."—Phila. Call.

Pildoras Holloway.

Las virtudes de esta admirable medicina son especialmente eficaces para expulsar de la Sangre toda impureza. En los casos de debilidad, ella es incomparable, al paso que cura radicalmente las Indigestiones, y los desordenes generales del Higado, del Estomazo, y de los Intestinos, restableciendolos, como por encanto, el vigor y la salud normal, dichas Pildoras remueven asimismo las dolencias que suelen afligir a las Mugeres al llegar estas a la edad critica.

Unguente Holloway.

Este incomparable Balsamo sana los Males de Piernas y de Pecho, las Llagas Antiguas, y aun esas Ulceras cuyo orijen no conviena mencionar en un anuncio publico. Para todas las Erupciones cutaneas no hay remedio igual al Unguente Holloway, al que millares deben la salvacion, tanto de sus Brazos y
